

Heated car park

The excessive amount of heat from the offices is channeled to the garage. Thanks to this solution, the building saves energy and money related to heating this area. Additionally, the garage users are provided with high thermal comfort.

Skanska
Green
Education